

PHIL DIXON, VETERINARY PARTNER

Phil grew up in South Yorkshire, and attended Broadway Grammar School in Barnsley. He qualified from The University of Liverpool Veterinary School at Leahurst and joined Marshall and Partners Veterinary (later to become Churchfield Vets) immediately after qualification, having been a student with them from the age of twelve. He started in mixed practice and found his niche in equine practice, and was given the opportunity to develop the equine sector of the practice early on in his career. Phil has always remained true to his philosophy of keeping clients and their horses happy with Churchfield Vet's service, and he constantly keeps up to date with new techniques in equine medicine and surgery. When not working, Phil likes to ride his horse Pixie when fit, give talks to various local clubs and clients on important equine issues, and spends any leisure time he has left playing with his two grandchildren.
