

TOM BYRNE, VETERINARY PARTNER

Tom qualified in Dublin and spent some time in mixed practice in Ireland and Brittany, France. Returning to academia, he did a Master's degree in Veterinary Pathology at RVC London, before joining a Veterinary Pathology research group in Compton, Berkshire whilst completing a PhD at Reading University. Tom has always preferred working with horses, and joined the team at Churchfield Vets as an equine vet. His main interests at the practice is equine lameness investigations, internal medicine, reproduction and surgery. He is qualified to practise Artificial Insemination (AI) in mares with both chilled and frozen semen. He is one of the acting vets for the Badsworth and Bramham Point to Point and Frickley Horse Trials; the practice has an active role with emergencies at Goffs UK Thoroughbred Sales in Doncaster. When not working, he likes to go racing, skiing in season, walking with the family and the family Cocker Spaniel 'Moose', swimming and watching films.
